

Chapter on Land Reform model 3: Group operations on land not owned by government.

Chapter in preparation for the 2014 Western Cape Land Reform Summit.

The objective with this chapter was to analyse food security gardens on communal land and for farm workers as a model inter alia in terms of the following:

- The strengths, weaknesses, threats and opportunities of the model.
- Domestic and international examples and lessons to be learned.
- Case studies of successes and failures.
- How the model interface with current government programmes (e.g. PLAS, Ilima Letsema, CASP, etc.).
- How the model would contribute to private (e.g. income, food security) and government (e.g. economic growth, employment) objectives.
- Resources / Elements which should be put in place to ensure the success and the long term sustainability of the model.
- Obstacles (e.g. red tape) which should be removed to ensure the successful
- Implementation of the model.
