

Economic Appraisal of the Spruit River Dam

The objective with this study were to undertake a comprehensive economic feasibility study for the proposed Spruit River dam i.e. to establish the economic, financial, technical and institutional feasibility of such a development to assess whether to proceed with the proposed Spruit River dam.